

Saint Ann Maronite Catholic Church was founded over a century ago in Troy, NY to serve the needs of the middle-eastern immigrants, especially Lebanese and Maronites families, in the Capital District area. A Roman Catholic Church following the Eastern Rite, with a proud and steadfast history of the continuation of its earliest Christian ancestors, Saint Ann's has served both the Lebanese Catholics in our area and Non-Lebanese Catholics who have been drawn to not only the spirituality of the Maronite tradition and Catholic faith but to its joyous welcome of all.

After many years in the small church building on Fourth Street in Troy, the Parish of Saint Ann moved in December 2012 to its new home in Watervliet, NY where they now have a parish hall as well as a residence for the pastor and a beautifully renovated church. Through the ongoing commitment and perseverance of its dedicated parishioners, and with the blessings of his Holiness, Pope Benedict the XVI, Saint Ann will continue to grow as a source of faith and spiritual life in our new community.
