As we approach the start of the coming year, I take a moment to remind and encourage all parishioners to obtain a box of weekly envelopes for the upcoming year 2014.

Those who currently do not use envelopes for our Sunday collection, please take a moment and think of the benefit you may have at the end of the year by claiming your donations to your church on your tax return.

We welcome new parishioners into the envelope system as we ask the Lord to reward you for all you do and give to your spiritual Home.

If your name is not on a box & you would like a box for next year's use, and in order to keep your information up to date, please call the rectory at (518) 272-6073 or leave a note in the basket collection or via e-mail at stann1905@gmail.com for any change of address or other important information.

Thank You for your generosity during this past year.

Urgent Stem Cell Request Donor

Cathy Christine Habeeb-Sheehan, age 44 and the mother of 3 young children, now living in Boston, was diagnosed with Acute Myeloid Leukemia in April, 2013, necessitating a stem cell transplant. Her brother was a match, but the transplant failed. Unfortunately, there are no other donor matches in either the US National or global Donor Registers. The medical staffs at Boston's Dana Farber Institute are seeking potential donors. The ideal donor is aged 18 to 44 years old. Middle Eastern ethnicity might be helpful, but not required. Please contact Fr. George for more detailed information.

Sincere Condolences

We join with the entire parish in offering our sincere condolences to Sayed Frangie and Family on the passing of Sayed's brother, Badoui Salim FRANGIE, who passed away recently in Lebanon.

May his memory be eternal in the hearts and minds of his loved ones. Please keep them in your prayers. Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord!

Jan 16 - St. Peter in Chains

Acts 12

To please the enemies of the Christians, Herod Agrippa put St. James to death, and now he planned to do the same to St. Peter, the Head of the Church. Once he had him in prison, he set a heavy guard about him to make sure he would not escape. But all the Christians of Jerusalem were begging the Lord to save St. Peter, and their prayers were answered. The night before he was to be condemned, St. Peter was peacefully sleeping in his prison cell between his two guards bound tightly by two chains. He was unafraid of death and ready to do God's will. Suddenly an angel appeared and tapped him on the side to awaken him. He told him to get up at once, put on his cloak and sandals and follow him. At the same moment, both the chains fell from his hands! Out the two went, past two sets of guards, to the gate. This iron gate opened to them by itself and the angel led St. Peter out to the street. Then he disappeared. Up until then, Peter thought he might be dreaming, but now he knew that God had really sent an angel to free him! What joy and gratitude filled his heart! At once, the Apostle went to the home of Mary, St. Mark's mother, where many Christians were praying for his safety. He knocked at the door and a young woman named Rhoda came to ask who it was, without opening the door. When she heard St. Peter's voice, she ran joyfully to tell the others. They, however, could not believe the news. "It must be his angel," they said when she kept insisting. Meanwhile St. Peter knocked again. At last they let him in, and their happiness was immense when they saw it was truly St. Peter himself! He told them how the angel had freed him, and altogether they blessed and thanked the Lord.

The Empress Eudoxia (wife of Emperor Valentinian III), who received the chains as a gift from her mother, Aelia Eudocia, consort of Valentinian II, presented them to Pope Leo I. Aelia Eudocia had received these chains as a gift from Iuvenalis, bishop of Jerusalem. The chains are preserved today in San Pietro in Vincoli, a titular church and minor basilica in Rome, Italy. The basilica was consecrated in 439 by Pope Sixtus III.

Pope urges faithful to remember 'glorious hope' of Baptism

Vatican City, Jan 8, 2014 / 07:00 am (EWTN News/CNA)

In his weekly general audience, Pope Francis reflected on the importance of the sacrament of Baptism, highlighting how it is a gift which incorporates us into the body of Christ and impels us to evangelize.

"Let us not forget the great gift we have received," Pope Francis stated during his Jan. 8 general audience, "our baptism has changed us, given us a new and glorious hope, and empowered us to bring God's redeeming love to all."

The Pontiff greeted the pilgrims gathered in St. Peter's Square, announcing the beginning of a new catechesis on the Sacraments, during which he will reflect on each of the seven, beginning with Baptism.

"The Second Vatican Council tells us that the Church herself is a 'sacrament,'" he explained, "a grace-filled sign which makes Christ's saving work present in history, through the power of the Holy Spirit."

As "the first of the Church's seven sacraments, baptism gives us new birth in Christ," said the Pope, and it "makes us sharers in the mystery of his death and resurrection, grants the forgiveness of sin and brings us new freedom as God's children and members of his Church."

"Baptism is the sacrament on which our faith is founded and we are living members of Christ and of his Church," the Pontiff emphasized, highlighting how it is not just "a simple rite or a formal act."

"For Him, we dive into the inexhaustible source of life; we come from the death of Jesus. So we can live a new life of communion with God, and with our brothers."

Pope Francis noted that although there are many who "don't have the slightest memory of this sacrament," we are all "called to live each day aspiring to the vocation that we receive in Him."

"If we follow Jesus and remain in the Church," observed the Pope, "with our limits and our fragilities, and sins...we become new creatures and we are clothed in Christ" through the Sacraments.

Drawing attention to the Church's missionary dynamic, the Pontiff explained how "our baptism has changed us, given us a new and glorious hope, and empowered us to bring God's redeeming love to all, particularly the poor, in whom we see the face of Christ."

"Our baptism," he continued, "has also given us a share in the Church's mission of evangelization; as disciples, we are also missionaries."

"As we celebrate the feast of the Baptism of the Lord this Sunday, let us ask him to renew in us the grace of our baptism and to make us, with all our brothers and sisters, true children of God and living members of his body, the Church."

Pope Francis concluded his weekly address by inviting all to experience "in everyday life the grace that we receive in Baptism," and greeted pilgrims present from numerous countries around the world.

Turning to those in the Middle East, particularly in Syria, the Pontiff asked that they remember the day of their Baptism and celebrate it, because thanks to this Sacrament "we have all become new creatures in Christ, temples of the Spirit, adoptive children of the Father."

We are "members of the Church, brothers in faith and announcers of the Gospel," he affirmed, who are "capable of forgiving and loving all, even our enemies."

Sharing the Vision of Christ

The parish of St. Ann has adopted this theme for 2014. Throughout the year, we will be posting some insights into that vision and how we, as a community, can bring it to fruition. In keeping with the Church's mission to promote life, let us consider the words of

Blessed John Paul II:

"A great prayer for life is urgently needed, a prayer which will rise up throughout the world. Through special initiatives and in daily prayer, may an impassioned plea rise to God, the Creator and lover of life, from every Christian community, from every group and association, from every family and from the heart of every believer."

Blessed Pope John Paul II, Evangelium Vitae, no. 100

"The future starts today, not tomorrow."

March for Life

US bishops announce 9 days of prayer January 18-26, 2014

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops has announced "Nine Days of Prayer, Penance and Pilgrimage" around January 21, the 41st anniversary Roe v. Wade-- the Supreme Court decision that struck down laws protecting unborn human life.

The U.S. bishops' Committee on Pro-Life Activities is asking Catholics to pray "for healing and conversion, for elected officials who support abortion and for all people whose lives have been forever changed by an abortion."

"The bishops recognize that prayer is the foundation of all our efforts on behalf of human life," said Tom Grenchik, executive director of the USCCB's Secretariat of Pro-Life Activities.

"These nine days of focused prayer and sacrifice are a great opportunity for people across the nation to unite their voices in prayer to God. Through this prayer campaign, I hope that many will be blessed with a new spirit of faith and encouragement in their pro-life efforts."

4 Ways to Join

This year, you have more ways than ever to get involved! You can join by app, text or email. For more details on these options, visit this USCCB link: <http://www.usccb.org/about/pro-life-activities/january-ro-e-events/nine-days-of-prayer-penance-and-pilgrimage.cfm>
