Exploring Scripture

Why Did Jesus "mean to pass by" his Disciples when He was walking on the water?

In Mark 6:45-52, we read the familiar story of Jesus walking on the water after having multiplied the loaves and fishes earlier that day. There is to our modern ears an odd turn of phrase that takes place about midway through the gospel. It says: About the fourth watch of the night, [Jesus] came toward them, walking on the sea. He meant to pass by them... (Mark 6:48)

This seems odd. Why would Jesus approach them walking on the water, (astounding miracle that it is), and simply mean to pass on by?

The problem is, we think that it means that he will not stop, but will keep walking past them. But actually this is not what it means.

This expression of God "passing by" is common in the Theophanies of the Old Testament. For example, when Moses was up on the mountaintop, The text teaches us in Exodus, that he revealed himself to Moses by "passing by." The text says:

Then Moses said, "Now show me your glory." And the Lord said, "I will cause all my goodness to pass in front of you, and I will proclaim my name, the Lord, in your presence. I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion. But," he said, "you cannot see my face, for no one may see me and live." Then the Lord said, "There is a place near me where you may stand on a rock. When my glory passes by, I will put you in a cleft in the rock and cover you with my hand until I have passed by. Then I will remove my hand and you will see my back; but my face must not be seen." (Exodus 33: 18-23)

Another example of this is in the appearance he made to Elijah who was hiding in a cave after his flight from Jezebel. At one point, God called him out of the cave so that he could "pass by" The text says,

The Lord said, "Go out and stand on the mountain in the presence of the Lord, for the Lord is about to pass by." Then a great and powerful wind tore the mountains apart and shattered the rocks before the Lord, but the Lord was not in the wind. After the wind there was an earthquake, but the Lord was not in the earthquake. After the earthquake came a fire, but the Lord was not in the fire. And after the fire came a gentle whisper. When Elijah heard it, he pulled his cloak over his face and went out and stood at the mouth of the cave. (1 Kings 19:11-13)

Some other example of this "passing by are:

- When John the Baptist saw Jesus passing by, he said, "Look, the Lamb of God!" (Jn 1:36)
- Now hearing a crowd going by, [the Blind Man] began to inquire what this was. They told him that Jesus of Nazareth was passing by. And he called out, saying, "Jesus, Son of David, have mercy on me!" ... (Lk 18:37-38)

Hence, for Jesus to "pass by" is not for him to walk past us in hiding. Rather, it is just the opposite, it is for him to reveal himself to us and summon us to Faith. This is also the case in the Old Testament texts where God "passes by" not to hide, but reveal himself and summon us to faith.

Some may argue that these phrases should be translated differently so that we can better grasp their meaning. Why not just say "He came toward them to reveal himself to them" ??

Perhaps there is some merit in this. But I would counter that more mileage is sometimes gained by the text causing us to ponder, and pray. Consider that in "decoding" this text we have looked at four other passages. Further, we have deepened our appreciation of what it means for God to "pass by."

What is easy, is not always what is best for us.

Though not well known in the west, the Catholic Church is comprised of 22 Churches, 21 Eastern and 1 Western Church. The Eastern Catholic Churches refer to those that developed in the eastern half of the Roman Empire, including the communities that derived from them, and are in communion with Rome.

The Maronite faithful persevere in the faith of their ancestors, spiritually united with each other in the Church throughout the world. By a consistent Christian witness, animated by the beautiful theological and spiritual heritage which they have received, the Maronite Church contributes in a unique way to the ongoing renewal and upbuilding of the entire Catholic Church.

US bishops announce 9 days of prayer January 18-26, 2014

The United States Conference of Catholic Bishops has announced "Nine Days of Prayer, Penance and Pilgrimage" around January 21, the 41st anniversary Roe v. Wade-- the Supreme Court decision that struck down laws protecting unborn human life.

The U.S. bishops' Committee on Pro-Life Activities is asking Catholics to pray "for healing and conversion, for elected officials who support abortion and for all people whose lives have been forever changed by an abortion."

"The bishops recognize that prayer is the foundation of all our efforts on behalf of human life," said Tom Grenchik, executive director of the USCCB's Secretariat of Pro-Life Activities.

"These nine days of focused prayer and sacrifice are a great opportunity for people across the nation to unite their voices in prayer to God. Through this prayer campaign, I hope that many will be blessed with a new spirit of faith and encouragement in their pro-life efforts."

4 Ways to Join

This year, you have more ways than ever to get involved! You can join by app, text or email. For more details on these options, visit this USCCB link: <http://www.usccb.org/about/pro-life-activities/january-ro-e-events/nine-days-of-prayer-penance-and-pilgrimage.cfm>

Blessed Margaret of Castello Patron Saint of the Unwanted

In our society, where medical testing can be done to assure that only children without defects are born, those who are born with handicaps are often regarded as "tragic" oversights. In this light, the "unwanted" of the world have a patron saint in a medieval woman who was born a crippled, blind and hunchbacked dwarf.

Bl. Margaret of Castello was born in the fourteenth century in Metola, Italy to noble parents who wanted a son. When the news was brought to the new mother that her newborn daughter was a blind, hunchbacked dwarf, both parents were horrified. Little Margaret was kept in a secluded section of the family castle in the hopes that her existence would be kept secret. However, when she was about six years old, she accidentally made her presence known to a guest. Determined to keep her out of the public eye, her father had a room without a door built onto the side of the parish church and walled Margaret inside this room. Here she lived until she was sixteen, never being allowed to come out. Her food and other necessities were passed in to her through a window. Another window into the church allowed her to hear Mass and receive Holy Communion. The parish priest became a good friend, and took upon himself the duty to educate her. He was amazed at her docility and the depth of her spiritual wisdom.

When Margaret was sixteen years old, her parents heard of a shrine in Citta di Castello, Italy, where many sick people were cured. They made a pilgrimage to the shrine so that she could pray for healing. However,

Margaret, open to the will of God, was not healed that day, or the next, so her parents callously abandoned her in the streets of the town and left for home, never to see her again. At the mercy of the passersby, Margaret had to beg her food and eventually sought shelter with some Dominican nuns.

Bl. Margaret lived a life of hope and faith, practicing heroic charity, though little was shown her in return. She came from a home where she was deprived, not because her parents had no wealth, but because they valued their material wealth and status more than their spiritual treasures.

How does Margaret's story apply to our times? Her parents wanted a boy, and if not a boy, at least a perfect girl. In the eyes of the world, she was useless, and what right do useless people have to live? Bl. Margaret helped innumerable others by her life and her good deeds, finding holiness by uniting her sufferings to Christ's. And now, some 700 years after her death, she teaches us valuable lessons by her very being.

Prayer for Reverence for Life with their freshness and promise*

- ✠ for the life of young people, hoping for a better world*
- ✠ for the life of the handicapped and disabled,
teaching us humility*
- ✠ for the life of the elderly, witnessing to the ageless values of patience and wisdom.*

*Like Blessed Mary,
may we always
say "YES" to Your gift.
May we defend it and promote it from conception to its natural end.
And bring us at last, O Father,
